

Quick Tips on Getting a Good Image for Your Tile

This rectangular image crops in well to be square although you lose some detail....

You don't lose much detail when this rectangular image is cropped in to a square....

This photo does not work if you want everyone in it – too horizontal, too many people
Group them in two rows if you have to have this many people.

Someone loses when you crop this photo to a square....

This photo has enough space to crop it to a square....

Here there is too much detail, shadows and the girl and horse are too far apart. Best you can do is the girl alone, but still too much clutter in the background to work well....

Finally, watch for shine and red eye in your photo – these could be startling at 6 x 6!
